

John Kehm

Front-end developer

Johnkehm@gmail.com | 646-573-1487

Over 20 years of experience as a front-end developer, digital interactive specialist, multimedia artist and UX architect.

From a complete website to a simple microsite, banner ads to billboard ads, I specialize in conceptualizing, creating and maintaining a creative and competitive user-facing identity. As part of a team or by working independently, for web and print, including tradeshow displays and magazine layout and print preparation.

- Expert HTML 4,5 & CSS.
- Development of front-end JavaScript as well as working knowledge of jQuery and numerous other script libraries.
- Expert in the Adobe Creative Suite.
- Responsive design, that includes emails.
- Web page and email template design, creation and CMS implementation.
- Thoughtful, clean code.
- Deep knowledge of several content management systems including: Eloqua, HubSpot, Adestra, Fatwire, Adobe Experience Manager and WordPress.

2009-present

Practical Law Company/Thomson Reuters, NYC

I work directly with the marketing team on a vast assortment of front-end web development projects, email marketing, template creation and asset design.

2001-present

Freelance web development

Designing and coding an endless assortment of web pages and ads, designing and preparing printed matter as well as a full gamut of creative and technical for many colorful clients such as: Penguin Books, Intel, WorkFusion, Scion, Respond2 and Applied SB.

2007-2009

Rubicon Marketing, Portland, Oregon

I was lead creative and front-end coder, from complex email newsletters to simple interactive digital kiosk designs.

2002-2009

Holiday Publishing, Portland, Oregon

I was lead designer and print preparation artist for the internationally distributed, full-color, bi-monthly fashion/culture magazine Gothic Beauty.